SPEECHES AT NEW HAVEN

Nebraskan Delivered Four Addresses During Afternoon and Evening.

DOES NOT BELIEVE IN "ARRANGING THINGS"

New England Never Has Been a Good Breeding Place for Democracy; Jefferson Never Considered It So.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., August 31.—The visit of William J. Bryan to Connecticut today must have strongly reminded him of the strenuous days during his presidential campaigns, for he delivered four addresses, each of considerable length, attended two receptions and was the center of handshaking bees whenever his admirers could reach him. All this was crowded into the hours between noon, when he reached this city, and the hour of his retirement tonight as the guest of Former Senator Archibald McNeil of Bridgeport. Everywhere he was heartily received, although there was an absence of street demonstrations, both here and in Bridgeport. His audiences, however, at times, were wildly enthusiastic, and especially at the noon luncheon here. The features of the day were the luncheon and the conference of the New England Democrats. At the former Bryan was welcomed to the city and state with a cordiality that for warmth has seldom been exceeded, and at the latter he stood before a representative body of New England Democrats, and with great earnestness spoke of the problems which the party must face in the coming campaigns. Bryan said, in the course of this address, that New England never had been a "good breeding place for Democracy; Jefferson had never considered it so; neither did Jackson."

A delay at the start of Bryan's trip caused an overlapping of the three meetings here, to the disappointment of many. The mass meeting on the green had to be started before the luncheon was actually over, and the Democratic conference was not completed until it was time for Bryan to deliver his third address of the day. The chief change in the program here was the inclusion of ex-Governor Garvin of Rhode Island, as one of the other speakers after the address he had prepared for the luncheon had been ruled out as being out of place as a strictly non-partisan gathering, the change being made at the last moment. Garvin spoke at the luncheon, however, paying a tribute to the uprightness of Bryan.

Bryan left New Haven for Bridgeport shortly before 6 o'clock, in that city going to the home of McNeil for dinner and later addressing an audience at the armory. Both of his main addresses at the mass meeting were along the lines of his address at Madison Square Garden last night, touching upon issues which he has declared to be of paramount importance at this time. Tomorrow morning, Bryan will return to New York. Most of the members of his party who were with him today left for their homes tonight.

Grateful for His Welcome.

NEW YORK, August 31.—William J. Bryan, despite the fatigue and strain of yesterday and last night, rose early this morning. He was up about 7 o'clock. Although he said he felt fine and was smiling when the newspaper men visited him, he could not dispel the look of weariness in his face brought by the strain of his reception and many incidents connected with it. Mr. Bryan was in his shirt sleeves and slippers when he received the reporters. He was asked to give some expression of opinion regarding last night's meeting, but he said he preferred not to talk of it. It had filled his heart with emotion and was a matter so personal and dear to him that it was difficult for him to express an opinion in words. Pressed for some word to the people regarding the reception, Mr. Bryan finally said:

"It would be the big event in the life of many men to face what I faced last night. I was more than pleased with the reception accorded me but these words cannot convey my meaning—any words are sufficient. I think you know how grateful I feel for the welcome I received last night. I said so to the thousands of people in the garden last night and I really meant it."

Mr. Bryan said he would make no formal statement today on any subject, political or otherwise.

While Mr. Bryan was talking to his early morning callers and opening his mail Mrs. Bryan came in for a few minutes and was introduced to those present. Among the callers was a delegation of natives of India, headed by Pandit (Professor) Mohammed Daraka-Ullah. They presented an address to Mr. Bryan, in which they thanked him for his reference in his speech last night to British rule in India.

"Arranging Things for the Masses."

Just before Mr. Bryan left the Hotel Victoria at 9:45 a. m., he was prevailed upon to give expression to his views on certain subjects. His remarks were brought out by a question, in which he was asked if he would co-operate with Governor Folk of Missouri in a set propaganda of Democratic doctrines for the next two years.

"I have not co-operated with anybody thus far," Mr. Bryan replied, "but I want to co-operate with everybody who holds the same views I hold and who wishes to co-operate with me."

After a moment Mr. Bryan continued: "The popular idea in the East is that much good results from two or three men getting together and arranging things for the masses. I believe now, as I have always believed, that the people are capable of thinking for themselves. In that way they get the best results."

"Give Roosevelt Democratic Congress."

In his address at the Green, Bryan said: "Today the Democratic party has a policy. The Republican party does not outline its policy as the Democratic party does. The president today is embarrassed by the fact that you can search the platform upon which he was elected within a magnifying glass, and you cannot find one single promise of reform on any subject. The trouble with the president has been when he tried to do anything, he had to whip the Republicans into line with the Democratic platform. And the trouble with the Republican party in this campaign, is that its motto is 'stand pat; defend what you have and don't promise anything more.' They say stand by the president. Well, my friends, the only way you can stand by the president, if he really wants reform, is to give him a Democratic congress to back him instead of a Republican congress.

"My friends, I believe that a private monopoly is an indefensible thing. You cannot find a Republican platform that denounces the principle of private monopoly. The line is going to be drawn. We are going to find out who is in favor of exterminating a trust and who is ont in favor of it. The men who are in favor of regulating might just as well take off his mask and declare himself, for you cannot regulate a private monopoly. It regulates you.

"I tell you that arbitration is a forceful thing. I tell you that the president of the United States has to his credit a great achievement. He settled the coal strike, after a strike loss of $45,000,000. I think it is one of the proudest acts of his official capacity, but my friends I am not satisfied that he shall have settled one strike after a loss of $45,000,000."

NEGLIGENCE OF DIRECTORS

Had Not Attended Meetings for Years.

Public Is Astounded at Discovery of Way Hippie Run Things.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 31.—Additional developments, sensational in character, continue to crop out in connection with the failure of the Real Estate Trust company, which institution closed its doors on Tuesday of this week. Today it became known publicly, for the first time since the suspension of the trust company, that there had not been a meeting of the directors of the failed bank for nearly three years, every detail having been left to the president of the company, Frank Hippie. It was this state of affairs which caused the clearing house association to hesitate about coming to the aid of the trust company at the meeting on Tuesday. Joseph F. Junkin, counsel for the Real Estate Trust company, was asked: "When was your trust company last examined by the state board?"

"About three years ago," slowly replied Junkin.

This frank admission caused a mild sensation among the bankers present, but when he was asked: "When did the directors of the trust company last examine its affairs?" his answer, "not for more than two and a half years," caused the men who guide the affairs of Philadelphia financial institutions to gasp.

Several of the directors of the trust company had stated since the crash that the company could have been saved had the local bankers advanced $7,000,000. A member of the clearing house association, who was present at Tuesday's meeting, said today: "The directors of the Real Estate Trust company knew as little about the affairs of the company as any of the bankers present. They did not appear to know whether the shortage was $5,000,000 or $10,000,000 and it would have been folly for us to have advanced the cash, when the affairs of the bank were in such a deplorable condition."

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 31.—The statement of Receiver Earle of the broken Real Estate Trust company of this city that Frank K. Hippie, the late president of the concern, had stolen securities valued at $65,000 and that the lending of $5,000,000 to Adolph Segal on insufficient security amounted to as much as theft, created a profound sensation throughout the city today. The revelation was an especially cruel blow to Hippie's many intimate friends, most of whom are prominent in the Presbyterian church.

Many of the larger creditors are angry at what they term the negligence of the directors of the wrecked concern. There is now pending before the local courts an application for the appointment of a co-receiver who shall directly represent the depositors. Receiver Earle has appealed to them asking them not to take part in litigation at the expense of their funds before they have talked with him.

The failure of the Real Estate Trust company is likely to lead to a revision of the state laws governing trust companies. Under the present laws trust companies in this state are permitted to do a surety business, and a movement is now on foot to separate the two. Receiver Earle said he unearthed today in the bank securities aggregating about $1,000,000 face value in the name of Adolph Segal.

EDITOR IS FOUND DEAD

Edward Rosewater, Noted as Proprietor of Omaha Bee, Taken Unexpectedly.

WAS A POWER IN NEBRASKA POLITICS

Fatigue of Recent Campaign for Senatorship, in Which He Was Defeated, Said to Have Hastened Attack.

OMAHA, Aug. 31.—Edward Rosewater, editor and proprietor of the Omaha Bee, and prominently identified with the political, financial and business affairs of Omaha, and the state of Nebraska for forty years, was found dead in District court room No. 6, on the third floor of the Bee building, early today. He had evidently died of heart failure.

Mr. Rosewater went to Waterloo, Nebraska, Thursday afternoon, where he delivered an address to the old soldiers of Nebraska, who were holding a picnic at that place. He reached Omaha on his return trip at 7 a. m. He is known to have been in his office during the evening, but was not seen by members of his family after returning from Waterloo. It was a habit of Mr. Rosewater to go to different parts of the building whenever his pleasure so induced, and it is presumed he stepped into the large court room and sat down for a minute's repose and fell asleep.

When Judge Troup, who presides over Court No. 6, arrived at the court room this morning he was surprised to find the lifeless body of Mr. Rosewater on a bench. He was sitting at the end of the bench, reclining easily against a radiator. He had reclined his head on his extended arm across a rail at the end of the bench. In his right hand he held a handkerchief, having evidently used it to wipe the perspiration from his face.

Mrs. Rosewater left a light burning at the family home, which is directly in the rear of the Bee building, anticipating that her husband would be home during the evening. When he did not appear, Mrs. Rosewater notified Chief of Police Donohue that her husband had not returned home, although it was known that he had been at his office during the evening. Nothing was done in the way of search, however, as it was not uncommon for the veteran editor to be detained late at the newspaper office.

Dr. Charles Rosewater, brother of the dead man, said to the Associated Press that his brother had often expressed a wish that when he should die, it be without lingering illness and that he would prefer to pass away in the manner in which he did.

Dr. Rosewater attributed the sudden death of his brother to the results which followed the excitement attending a long campaign, in which Mr. Rosewater was a prominent candidate for nomination by the Republican state convention for United States senator. The convention was held August 22nd, and Mr. Rosewater, unanimously supported by the delegation from Douglas (Omaha) county, was a prominent figure at that gathering. There were several ballots taken, during the course of which Mr. Rosewater gained steadily against his chief opponent, Norris Brown. Following the ballot which nominated Mr. Brown, Mr. Rosewater delivered an earnest speech to the convention, thanking his friends for their support and pledging himself to the support of Mr. Brown and the state ticket, and urged the convention to nominate a clean ticket for which no apologies would be necessary.

Mr. Rosewater, following the convention, announced through the columns of his paper, the Omaha Bee, that he was out of the senatorial race. During the campaign, Mr. Rosewater naturally was under considerable strain and following the announcement of the result of the ballot which gave Brown a majority gave evidence of weakness, but revived at once and addressed the convention. He told a close political friend that he felt little worse for the excitement of the campaign and was strong enough to go into the battle for the election of the state ticket.

Mr. Rosewater's life has been an active one, and the greater part of that activity has been spent in Omaha. For some time after coming to Omaha he was manager for the Western Union Telegraph company, having followed the telegraph profession before and after the war. He was a military telegrapher and was a trusted telegrapher of General Grant. After leaving the Western Union company, Mr. Rosewater founded the Omaha Bee, a small afternoon paper. He developed the paper into one of the largest newspapers in the West. A few years ago he gave over the active management of the paper to his two sons, Victor and Charles Rosewater, he still retaining the title of editor. He gave considerable attention to politics, and was a candidate three years ago for the office of United States senator, being defeated by Senator Millard.

Mr. Rosewater's life has been devoted largely to the upbuilding of Omaha and Nebraska. Aside from his editorial efforts he has given largely of his financial means to the progress of Omaha. He built and his newspaper occupies one of the largest and most modernly equipped newspaper buildings in the country, the cost of which reached half a million dollars. This building was the pride of Mr. Rosewater, and he did not hesitate to expend effort and money to keep it in its original state of preservation.

Edward Rosewater, founder and editor sice 1871 of the Omaha Bee, was born at Bukovan, Bohemia, in 1841. He came to the United States in 1851 and began work as a telegraph operator when 18 years old. From 1861 to 1863 he was a member of the United States military telegraph corps and in the latter year became manager of the Pacific Telegraph company at Omaha. He was at various times a member of the Nebraska legislature, member of the Republican national committee, member of the advisory board of the national committee, member of the United States mint commission and representative of the United States to the universal postal congress, of which he was vice president. He was the original promoter of the Trans-Mississippi exposition held at Omaha in 1898.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 31.—Wm. J. Bryan learned of the death of Edward Rosewater, his personal friend, while on the train en route to New Haven. Mr. Bryan immediately sent the following message to Mrs. Rosewater: "Just learned with great sorrow of your husband's death. Mrs. Bryan joins me in expressions of sympathy."—W. J. Bryan.

Many Condolences.

OMAHA, Aug. 31.—Hundreds of telegrams of condolence have been received by friends of the family from all parts of the country, among them Wm. J. Bryan, and Melville E. Stone, general manager of the Associated Press.

The announcement was made tonight that the funeral will be held at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon next, from the rotunda of the Bee building. The services will be under the auspices of the Masons.

During Sunday the body will lie in state for a few hours in the Bee building, which will be open to the public. Interment will be in Pleasant Hill cemetery.

AMPLE CROPS AND EXPORTS

Foreign Commerce Shows Great Gains.

Large Wheat Crops Abroad, But Still Export Trade Increases.

NEW YORK, Aug 31.—R. G. Dun & Co's Weekly Review of Trade tomorrow will say:

No check to commercial progress can be discerned, while the outlook becomes brighter each week through most encouraging crop reports. Lower prices for farm staples testify to the certainty of ample crops, which in turn give promise of more liberal exports. Foreign commerce at this port alone for the last week showed gains of $2,356,709 in exports and $3,548,876 in imports as compared with last year's figures. Railway traffic returns continue encouraging for August thus far, exceeding last year's figures by 1.75 per cent. Failures this week numbered 170 in the United States compared with 217 last year.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

Better weather and definite assurances of large crop yields stimulate full and winter buying, which is apparently at or close to its zenith. A smaller movement of winter wheat has partly relieved the strain on the railroads and made for a little more steadiness in the price of that cereal, which, however, has sagged slightly as the feeling grows that spring, like winter wheat, will prove a large crop. Reports from abroad are of better than earlier anticipated wheat crops, which seem likely to affect prices still further, but it is to be noted that export trade in flour has improved and exports tend to expand.

The crop situation otherwise is promising. The promise of cooler weather makes for increased activity in industry. The iron and steel markets are a little quieter, due mainly to scarcity of supplies rather than the weakening of demand, which was evidenced by advances in pig iron, old material, and some finished lines are still very heavy.

Business failures in the United States for the week ending August 30th number 198 against 155 last week.

Wheat, including flour, exports from the United States and Canada for the week ending August 30th are the largest of any week this year, aggregating 5,081,998 bushels against 3,196,371 last week.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—The last day of August is breaking all records for heat in this country. The thermometer registered 92 degrees in the shade and 120 in the sun. No prostrations were reported. The heat in England in general is so intense that in some places the judges presiding over the dignified county courts are reported to be dispensing justice in their shirt sleeves.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—A dispatch to a news agency from Helsingfors, Finland, today announced that nineteen soldiers found guilty of participation in the recent mutiny at Sveaborg fortress were shot today, and that three civilians convicted of incitement to mutiny were hanged, and others were sentenced to prison for terms varying from five to fifteen years.

CALHOUN MAKES OFFER

Carmen to Vote this Morning on Proposal to Return to Work Pending Arbitration.

FIRST STRIKE BREAKERS ARRIVE IN THE CITY

Trainload Passing Through Ogden Complain of Being Ill Fed and Many Protest that they Are Union Men.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 31.—The prospects for a settlement of the carmen's strike are brighter tonight than they have been at any time since the platform men tied up the United Railroads last Sunday morning, and on which not a wheel has turned since. As a result of the latest proposal of President Calhoun, there is some hope that the carmen will return to work tomorrow and submit the differences between the men and the company to a committee of arbitration for adjustment.

The one obstacle that may defeat the early settlement of the strike is that Calhoun tenaciously adheres to his declaration that the men must return to work before he will consent to treat with them. The developments today looking toward an early ending of the strike was brought by another effort made by Mayor Schmitz to find a common ground of settlement.

The mayor sent for President Calhoun of the United Railroads this morning and asked him to set aside all feeling of resentment and to consider the questions involved solely from the standpoint of public interest. He requested Calhoun to accept the carmen's proposition for arbitration which the mayor had read in the newspapers, but of which he had received no other notice.

At the end of the discussion Calhoun reduced in writing a proposition, which the mayor laid before the carmen's union for their consideration.

The proposal made by Calhoun was as follows: "If the men will promptly go back to their work, we are willing and now offer to submit their request for shorter hours and higher wages to a committee of arbitration to be selected as provided in their contract with us, namely, one of them, one of ourselves and one by the two so selected, and we will agree to be bound by the decision of said committee, and will also agree that any decision reached shall take effect on the date the men resume work."

Calhoun told the mayor: "We are willing honorably to do all in our power to end this strike, but there is one matter of principle involved. We will deal only with our employes, or representatives of our employes, and not with men who are not in our employ, or who do not represent men in our employ.

"On this point the company cannot and will not yield. The men who have voluntarily quit work are in no sense now in our employ, and cannot be in any wise considered our employes."

Richard Cornelius, president of the Carmen's Union, has called a general meeting of the union for 9 o'clock tomorrow morning to consider Calhoun's proposal and vote upon the question of returning to work under the conditions outlined.

"It is my last proposal," said Calhoun tonight, "and I am continuing my preparations to start the cars at an early day, whether the carmen accept my proposition or not. I cannot and will not recede from the fundamental principles that the men must first return to work before I will consider the merits of their claim for higher wages and shorter hours. It is not generally known that I fed the men for six weeks after the fire and for some weeks afterward sold them all their provisions at wholesale prices. I had reason to expect different treatment from them."

Strike Breakers Arrive.

Escorted by seven private detectives twenty-eight men, said to be the vanguard of the strike breakers en route to this city, marched from the ferry to the car barns upon their arrival at 1 o'clock this morning. They were recruited in St. Louis. Through the entire length of the burned district the men marched with their armed guards without being molested.

About noon a second band numbering about thirty men arrived at the Third and Townsend street depot. As the train bearing these men passed the Valencia street station, the fact that strike breakers were aboard was tipped off to the armen by the trainmen.

The party split up into small groups upon alighting from the train, each of which, escorted by one or two special officers, made its way to the various car barns, without any trouble.

The majority of them went to the Utah street barn. Although numerous union pickets were at the depot, there was no demonstration and no attempt made to intercept them.

During the afternoon it became noised about that the strike breakers who arrived today were being held in the United Railroads' stockade against their will by armed guards until the police finally made an investigation.

Police Commissioner Hegerty and Detective Sergeant Reynolds went into the barricaded car barn at Fillmore and Turk streets, but found that the rumor was without foundation.

None of the strike breakers expressed any desire to leave or stated that they were there against their will.

OGDEN, Utah, Aug. 31.—Two trains, carrying 850 strike breakers, reached Ogden early this evening and departed before 8:30 for San Francisco. The first train was made up of men from Philadelphia. While the train was here the windows were closed and doors locked and the men were virtually held prisoners. At Green River, Wyoming, they raided the depot hotel and since have been held in restraint.

The men on the second train mingled freely with a great crowd of local unionists, drawn to the depot by the announcement of their coming. They nearly all claimed to be in sympathy with unionism, and a committee sent the following communication to the local papers: "Dear Friends: We are, most of us, young men, and would like to see the country of the Golden West. We are not all scabs, and will not take honest men's places. The object of most of us is to get to 'Frisco free. You know we got our fare paid on this trip. Most of us are union tradesmen. We want to put ourselves in the right light before the western people. There are on this train about 500 and at least 200 will desert when they get to 'Frisco."

The strike breakers were all poorly clad and they claim poorly fed. While crossing the state of Wyoming today, they organized and made a demand for better food and more of it, and threatened to leave the trains in a body. Their demands were met by a promise to supply them with three good meals a day, and at Ogden the strike breakers watched the taking on of provisions until they were satisfied that the agreement was to be fulfilled.

$4000 IN VALUABLES TAKEN FROM SALOON

BUTTE, Mont., Aug. 31.—A special to the Miner says:

The safe in the saloon of L. E. Blanchard at Elliston, thirty miles west of here, was blown up last night by robbers who escaped with approximately $4000 worth of cash, checks, jewelry and other valuables. The job was evidently done by experts, as the safe door was blown off its hinges without awakening occupants of adjoining buildings. At last reports the robbers were still at large.

PARKER CHOSEN BAR PRESIDENT

Association Will Meet Next Year in Los Angeles.

Annual Meeting Closed Last Night With a Big Jolly Up.

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 31.—With a big symphony orchestra on the stage, booming Wagnerian crashes and a double quartet of young lawyers supplemented by a piano in the other end of the Minneapolis auditorium, singing college songs and other popular airs, staid lawyers and dignified judges laid aside their dignity and had a good time tonight at the banquet marking the close of the twenty-ninth annual meeting of the American Bar Association which has been held in St. Paul during the past three days. Governor Johnson was the first speaker, his subject being "The State of Minnesota."

Judge Parker, the new president of the association, responded to the toast, "The Judiciary."

A number of other toasts were responded to by members of the association.

During the day officers had been elected as follows:

President, Alton B. Parker, New York; secretary, John Hinckley, Baltimore, Md.; treasurer, Frederick E. Wadhams, Albany, N. Y.; executive committee, Charles Monroe, Los Angeles, Cal.; Ralph Breckenridge, Omaha; R. G. Brown, Minneapolis; Walter G. Smith, Philadelphia; Charles F. Libbey, Portland, Me.

The executive committee recommended in its report that a two-thirds vote be necessary for the approval of any legislation.

A resolution was introduced that the association accept the invitation of Los Angeles for the meeting in 1908, subject to the judgment of the executive committee.

After much discussion it was decided that the proposed federal statute providing for the supervision of interstate transaction in insurance be made a special order immediately after the annual address at the next convention. A resolution appointing a committee of five to raise a fund for the erection of a national memorial to John Marshall at Richmond was adopted.

PRESIDENT ENTERTAINS SEVEN AT LUNCHEON

New York County Chairman Predicts Speedy Finish for Odell.

OYSTER BAY, Aug. 31.—President Roosevelt had seven luncheon guests today. They included Francis E. Leupp, commissioner of Indian affairs; Lyman Abbott, editor of Outlook; Count Gleichen, British attache; Brander Matthews and Representative Herbert Parsons, chairman of the New York county Republican committee, whose visit was announced by the president last Wednesday.

Before taking his carriage for Sagamore Hill, Parsons predicted the end of the Odell rule in New York on September 25th, the date of the Republican state convention.

SHERIDAN ON THE ROCKS

Army Transport Homeward Bound Comes to Grief on Coral Reef Near Honolulu.

COAL THROWN OVER TO LIGHTEN WEIGHT

Boats Succeeded in Getting Ashore —Passengers Compelled to Remain Over Night—200 on Board.

HONOLULU, Aug. 31.—The United States army transport Sheridan is ashore on Barber's point, the southwestern extremity of the island of Oahu, on which Honolulu is located.

News of the grounding of the Sheridan was received from the wireless telegraph station at Barber's point this morning, but no details of the accident have yet been learned. It is understood however that the steamer is on a coral reef. Arrangements are being made to send assistance immediately to the stranded vessel. The tug Fearless is the only vessel available at present. There is a lighthouse on Barber's point.

The Sheridan went ashore at 4 o'clock this morning. All efforts to send a boat ashore from her have thus far failed. There is no beach at the place she struck and the heavy surf makes it impossible to land anywhere near where she lies.

As seen from the shore she appears to be hung up amidships and her rolling is noticeable. She lies broadside to the shore, her bow pointing toward Honolulu.

The transport blew her whistles after going ashore, but did not get into communication with Honolulu until the wireless telegraph station was opened.

Owing to the fact that the Sheridan is provided with watertight compartments, and has a double bottom, it is believed that she has sustained no serious damage. The tug Fearless has started for the scene and will render all the assistance in her power.

The transport Sheridan, Captain Peabody, sailed from Manila on August 13th for San Francisco, with a number of passengers but no troops. She touched at Nagasaki on August 17th and was expected to arrive in San Francisco about September 8th. The Sheridan is 445 feet 5 inches long, and 48 feet two inches beam. Her gross tonnage is 3673 and her draught under normal conditions is 30 feet. She was built in Ireland in 1892 and was formerly known as the British steamer Massachusetts. During the Spanish-American war she was taken into the service of the United States government and her name changed to the Sheridan in accordance with the plan of giving the names of eminent commanders to the army transports.

The Sheridan's main steampipe is broken and the vessel is helpless so far as her own power is concerned. It is reported that the breaking of the pipe occurred just before the steamer grounded and that the crippled condition of her engines was the cause of the accident.

The pipe broke at 1:38 o'clock this morning. Immediately after the vessel struck the reef the lifeboats were lowered and efforts made to reach the shore. The position of the steamer apparently is alarming, but her boats have not yet been able to find a place where they can land. The natives are now getting to the vessel through the surf in canoes.

Captain Peabody says that if power is applied quickly he believes the Sheridan can be saved, but otherwise there is little hope for the transport. The swell is very heavy and the coral rocks extremely sharp. Good order is maintained on board the vessel but the transfer of passengers either to the shore or other craft so they can be brought to this city is a serious problem.

HONOLULU, Aug. 31.—Evening dispatch—The second officer of the Sheridan has come ashore. His boat was swamped in the breakers, but her crew landed safely. Captain Peabody has signalled the steamer Claudine to take the Sheridan's passengers to Honolulu. If possible, the transfer will be made at once, the revenue cutter Manning assisting. The report that the Sheridan's machinery broke down before the vessel struck, is denied. The Sheridan is now hanging on a rock amidships, with deep water all around.

The Sheridans engines are being repaired and coal is being rapidly thrown overboard with a view of trying to float her at high tide this afternoon.

Captain Peabody is quoted to have assumed all responsibility for the accident, saying that the vessel was in too close.

The Sheridan has aboard 125 through passengers and 50 soldiers.

HONOLULU, Aug. 31.—At 6 o'clock tonight it was thought that many if not all the Sheridan's passengers would be obliged to spend the night aboard the stranded vessel. Only two boats have reached shore, and one of these was badly smashed in the surf. A wireless message has been sent for another steamer to assist in taking the passengers off. The surf is very heavy and the transfer of passengers will be very difficult.

The position of the Sheridan is very serious, but it is predicted that she will be floated early in the morning.

CITY JUSTICE DISCUSSION

New-Found Office Has Started Lawyers to Talking.

Question Raised If Municipal Officer Can Be Voted for at County Election.

Can a purely municipal officer be elected at a state and county election? This is the latest question that has been raised in the discussion over the election of a city justice of the peace, for which the Democrats at their convention Tuesday nominated George B. Graham. All sorts of arguments for and against the proposition of electing such an officer have been brought up. Frank H. Short, when asked what he thought about the matter yesterday, said:

"I don't see how a city officer can be elected at a general county election. Even if Fresno were operating under the general municipal law of the state, instead of under its own charter, the time for holding city elections for the election of city officers would be prescribed by law, and it would not be at the time of the county and state election. It would be as unreasonable as to elect a county officer at a city election. This is, of course, aside from all other phases of the legality of the statute providing for a city justice."

Another lawyer called attention to the fact that the law creating this city justice is a part of the county government act of the last legislature, much of which has been declared unconstitutional. "It is the ordinary presumption," he said, "that almost any law passed by our legislature is unconstitutional. At least one phase of this law has already been declared so, and that is in relation to salary. A fixed salary is set by this statute. The courts have held that the salary law is unconstitutional and county and township officers are still paid by the fee system. Outside of that, though, I am of the opinion already expressed, that this law is intended only to apply to those cities working under the general municipal law and not under freeholders' charter. The fact that all the cities in the state with populations putting them in these classes have their own charters, does not mean that the law will never have a chance to operate. Other cities are growing rapidly and may at any time fall into one of these classes and have to be governed by the state law."

County Clerk Miles is in the mountains and it could not be ascertained whether or not he intended to put Graham's name on the ticket. Deputy Clerk Branwell said yesterday that the clerk's office would be guided entirely by the opinion of the district attorney.

"Graham's name will not be put on the ticket without advice from the district attorney to put it there," said Barnwell. "We shall get an opinion from him soon enough to permit Graham to commence mandamus proceedings in case we should be advised to keep him off."

District Attorney Jones is also out of town. Deputy Rauke said he had not looked up the law, but would do so as soon as an opinion was asked for.

GEORGE COSGRAVE BACK FROM TRIP TO WYOMING

Went to Take Depositions in the Mallor Will Contest—Rough Country.

George Cosgrave returned yesterday afternoon from a strenuous trip to Southern Wyoming, where he attended the taking of depositions in the contest of Mary Louise Hand and her husband for the Mallory estate. The plaintiffs had given notice of the taking of their depositions and Mr. Cosgrave was on the ground to represent the interesests of the heirs. He was compelled to leave Fresno just at the closing hours of the Republican convention, but not until he secured the nomination for district attorney.

In speaking yesterday of his trip, Mr. Cosgrave said:

"Southern Wyoming is rather an uninviting country just now, although it doubtless has great possibilities. I left the Union Pacific railroad at Walcott, a station just beyond old Fort Steele, and staged it fifty miles south to the mining town of Grand Encampment. We crossed the old overland stage road now plainly discernible, although unused for about forty years, and then proceeded along the North Platte river, a beautiful stream bordered by prosperous farms. In fact, all the farms are on the river or its tributaries. The country is rolling and seemingly given over to sagebrush and a small cactus, but in fact furnishes grass of great nutrition to cattle and sheep. Numerous irrigation projects are contemplated and will in time be perfected, for the North Platte at its lowest stage carries I should say six hundred or a thousand cubic feet of water. The elevation ranges from six to seven thousand feet, and not more than two crops of alfalfa can be cut, so that the agricultural possibilities are not very great on account of the altitude. The soil, however, seems to possess great fertility and responds readily where water is used.

"The town of Encampment, lying in the triangle of the Silver Bow and Sierra Madre ranges, is destined very likely to become a copper mining center. The Pen. Wyoming Copper company alone have nearly a million dollars invested in tramways, reduction works and mines.

"The people are hospitable, openhearted and truly Western, with unlimited faith in the future of the state."

W. C. HOPKINS REMEMBERED

W. C. Hopkins, well-known in Fresno as a hardware man, is about to leave Fresno to go into business in San Francisco. Yesterday afternoon his fellow employes at Donahoe-Emmons company surprised him with the presentation of a handsome watch fob.

Mr. Hopkins has been with this firm for fifteen years, and has during the long period won the highest regard of all with whom he has been associated. He expressed very hearty appreciation of the gift, which was presented by William Dick. Mr. Hopkins leaves tonight or tomorrow for San Francisco.

BRYAN.

William J. Bryan, whom Dave Hill shelved at St. Louis in favor of a respectable graven image, has come back from a trip around the world, and is received in the city of Hill and Tammany with all the honors of an uncrowned king. The wave is high, and Bryan is on the crest of it. He is already the nominee of the Democratic party for president. No convention has been held, but the people have nominated him, and the people's voice, when it is united, is heard even by the politicians.

It is a dizzy change. Only two years ago the writer met Bryan in a country hotel in Illinois. He was on a lecture tour, and was treated with customary scant courtesy of lecturers. A reception committee found him his hotel and left him to shift for himself. After dinner he chatted a while, and then went to the hall. The barber did not go; he had an engagement to play pedro. The waiter inquired whether Bryan was a good speaker, and on being assured he was, thought he might go if it was free. The professor of political economy and the professor of American history did not go. They had an engagement with the writer to drink beer and tell stories. But there was a fair crowd, and when Bryan came back to the hotel after the lecture he was satisfied with the receipts and the reception. Next day there was a football game, and everybody fogot all about Bryan. That was two years ago, in Champaign, Illinois. Now, without holding any position he did not hold then, Bryan's mere presence in New York city is the biggest fact in that city, and his every movement is news for the whole country. It is a far cry, from that country hotel and indifferent crowd, in Illinois, to the packed multitudes of Madison Square garden.

Bryan has grown, too. His speech was good; one of the best he has ever made, and far better than he could have made, a few years ago. He has learned better thinking and unlearned much stubbornness. He has given up free silver, free trade, and anti-imperialism. He believes, as everybody does, in ultimate independence for the Filipinos, but he awaits it as the achievement of education, rather than thrusting it on them unprepared, as an abstract right. He still believes that all protective tariff is robbery, but he proposes to continue that robbery, and acknowledges that it makes its victims prosperous. On free silver, he has at last had the courage to announce, what the facts compelled everybody else to concede years ago. On the "paramount" issues of two campaigns, he has not only given up the idea that Republican success would send the country to the demolition bow-wows, but he has come over nearly or quite to the Republican side himself.

On newer issues, he is notable chiefly as an admirer and supporter of President Roosevelt. The president has for some time been regarded as the leading man in the Democratic as well as the Republican party, but it is remarkable to see the first Democrat and prospective candidate for president acknowledge himself his disciple.

Some freaks, some vagaries, some inconsistencies still remain. Otherwise it would not be Bryan. His proposal for national and state ownership of railways combined has no merit except originality. Nobody else believes in or trusts it. And there are more things. Bryan and Bryanism are still on the left side of sanity. But they are not so far as they once were, and Bryan is going to get a much more cordial hearing than he once did. As candidate for president he is hopelessly handicapped. But as a candidate for the personal good will of the American people, he has already won.

GOOD TIMES.

Reports from the commercial agencies in New York indicate universal and increasing prosperity, all over the country. There are good crops, good prices, good business, good feeling and plenty of money. In California, in spite of the San Francisco disaster, the same conditions prevail. In fact, the wage-earners are decidedly the better for the disaster. There is work for everybody, at good wages, and a constant demand for more workers. Business in everything is good, and in certain lines abnormally brisk.

Fresno has its share, and a little more, of the general movement. We have had much more than our annual share of calamities, but we have survived them and piled prosperity on them. Floods have destroyed much grain and alfalfa, but the abundant rains which caused the floods have produced much more than they destroyed. The blight assailed the peaches too late to be eradicated this year, but the price went up more than the crop went down. The raisin association is dead, but the standard of prices it established, or better, is still maintained. With present crops, raisins at 3½ cents, and now at 3⅝ cents, are a profitable product. The lumber mills in the mountains and the planing mills of Fresno have all the business they can do, at good prices. More timber is to be sold in the forest reserve, and this will mean still more business, for the present mills or new ones. Workingmen are everywhere occupied and in demand.

And business is good. On account of its bearing on advertising, the Republican is obliged to keep close watch on local business, and is in a position to know the true state of things. Spring business, up to April 18, was active beyond all precedent. On that day there was a total collapse, which did not fully recover until well into the dull season. That season (July and August) has been dull, as is always the case, but much less so than usual. If the brisk months in the fall show as great an improvement as the dull months in the summer, there will be a general boom in all lines of business. There are exceptions, of course. Some people always do go down when others are going up. But the general result is forward and favorable.

It is a good year, for crops, for prices, for business, for wages, for everything and everybody.

According to some of the strike breakers en route west, they are honest and loyal men, who have no intention of carrying out their contract of employment, but are merely obtaining transportation under false pretenses. Even the San Francisco strikers assert that many of the pilgrims are former members of their own union, who are taking advantage of this opportunity to steal a free ride. All of which is, of course, in accordance with the ethics of war. If a strike is war, then these wrong things are right.

Somebody has invented a phonograph which can be heard for twenty miles. Before it goes on the market, we want to contract for a deep and sound proof cave of refuge.

STOLYPIN CONFIDENT

That Public Will Rise to Government's Support.

Correspondence Between Monarchists and Emperor William.

ST. PETERSBURG, August 31.—Premier Stolypin has sent a circular to the governors instructing them not to be dismayed by the threats or acts of the terrorists, as he is sure that the population generally will eventually come to the support of the authorities in the war against revolutionists.

The court which had been hearing the charges against newspapers has permanently suppressed the Nasha Shisn for violation of the press laws. M. Vedovozoff, its editor, has been sentenced to a year's imprisonment in a fortress.

MOSCOW, August 31.—The Viedomosti, leader of the revolutionary press of Russia, created a sensation today by printing correspondence exchanged between M. Usefovich, who holds the rank of state councillor and who is president of the monarchical party of Kief, and Dr. Von Miguel, the German charge d'affaires at St. Petersburg. From the letters printed it appears that, upon the recent report that Emperor William had invited Count Witte to Wilhelmsee, M. Usefovich, in the name of all the factions of the Russian monarchical party, telegraphed to the German emperor expressing deep regret that such a splendid monarch and head of the friendly German people" should "receive a man whom the whole Russian people regarded as being the guilty author of miseries into which the country was plunged and the provoker of the terrorism inspired by hostility to the Jews, to whom he is friendly."

Several days later M. Usovich, according to the Viedomosti, received through Dr. Von Miguel a letter saying he had been directed by the foreign secretary to say that the telegram to the German emperor was based on misapprehension, as Emperor William had not received Count Witte and had no intention of receiving him.

ST. PETERSBURG, August 31.—At the German embassy today, Mr. Von Miguel, the German charge d'affaires, informed the Associated Press that by direction of the German foreign minister he had replied to M. Usefovich but in a sense his reply had been distorted. He simply wrote that the telegram of the Monarchists was based on an erroneous impression and that Emperor William had not made known to anyone his intentions regarding Count Witte.

WILL TAKE TWO WEEKS TO FLOAT MANCHURIA

Twenty-five Hundred Tons of Coal Will Be Jettisoned and Dredger Has Been Ordered.

HONOLULU, August 31.—Soundings show that at low tide there is only ten feet of water on the Manchuria's starboard side. It is reported that there is five feet of water in her hold and that she has sustained structural damage along the lines of her bilge and keel. The 2500 tons of coal she has aboard will be jettisoned.

Captain Metcalf has engaged a dredger for use in case it should be needed. He says he does not expect to float the steamer in less than two weeks. An order from the agents of the steamship company excludes representatives of the press from the stranded vessel.

REDWOOD CITY, Aug. 31.—W. C. C. Jones, who was convicted of the brutal murder of Mrs. Elizabeth Brandorup in South San Francisco, on June 22nd, and whose sentence was fixed by the jury at life imprisonment, was committed to Folsom today to serve his sentence.

MARYSVILLE, Aug. 31.—The body of an unknown man was found near Reed station, on the Southern Pacific four miles south of Marysville today by a section crew. The man had been run over by a train during the night and portions of his body were scattered over half a mile of track.

LOOKS DARK FOR PALMA

Only One Cuban Province Still Peaceful.

Uprising in Santiago a Blow to Hopes for an Early Peace.

HAVANA, August 31.—The situation is far darker tonight than at any previous time since the insurrection broke out. News of an uprising in Santiago province while not yet published here is spreading about the city, and causing the gravest concern. When Sleeper, the American charge d'affaires here, was told of the contents of the Associated Press Santiago dispatch, he endeavored to verify it through the state department, but was told it was absolutely untrue. Subsequently the dispatch was verified from private and newspaper sources. The extent of the rising in Santiago is not known, but it is the opinion here that the worst calamity of all to the Palma government would be an insurrection in eastern Cuba. The Associated Press was informed tonight by two reliable eye witnesses that Cardenas, which hitherto has been considered a perfectly peaceful city, was the scene yesterday of desultory fighting between police and rural guards on the one side and roving insurgents on the other.

The only province remaining peaceful is Puerto Principe. Americans having great cattle interests there are apprehensive lest it, too, becomes the field of insurrectionary operations.

The Associated Press correspondent at Cienfugos telegraphed tonight that there were 3000 armed insurgents in the vicinity and that all the small towns in Santa Clara province are controlled by insurgents, who attack and loot trains and seize the property of foreigners as well as of Cubans.

Trinidad is surrounded by insurgents, and the government appears powerless to protect property of Americans and other foreigners. Railway trains are held up at will and passengers searched. The Cuban Central railroad has declined to assume responsibility for the safety of passengers or freight.

Recruiting for government forces is making good progress here.

The government continues to make line headway wherever there is fighting.

The troops in the western portion of Del Rio province have not yet come up with Pino Guerrera and according to the Associated Press correspondent with the troops, there is no present likelihood of their doing so, as the troops might march for ten years and all the while Guerrera would still be just ahead of them in the hills.

There are thousands of mountain trails with which the insurgents are familiar and which lead in all directions. If Guerrera cared to harass the government there, troops could be killed off by sharpshooters. The government has no cavalry in Pinar Del Rio and the only real soldiers are the artillerymen, but as they are foot, they cannot cope with the mounted veterans on the insurgent side. Guerrera does not want to fight. His scouts can always be seen at a distance from the government line of march. The correspondents report more looting by Guerrera's men.

There are many rumors in circulation as to what may happen September 15th, unless a new election is granted.

To add to the general apprehension the American protestant missionaries of Havana, who are in general charge of the field, say that reports from missionaries outside of Havana are practically unanimous in stating that the insurrection is sweeping all the country district in the western half of the island, and that they are unable to continue their work and ride over the routes in their several districts. The increasing gravity of the situation has revived discussion of the possibility of intervention by the United States. La Discussion, the semi-official organ of the administration, in an editorial this evening, calls upon Cubans today down their arms and save the republic from the danger of intervention. The article appeals to the patriotism of the people, depicting the results of intervention, as follows: "Permanent intervening would be worse than death. It would be preferable if the Caribbean should engulf the Pearl of the Antilles."

The article further appeals thus to racial sentiment: "The colored race may tremble before the possibility of intervention. Americans hate and despise negroes. Even their own negroes whom they have been in contact with for 200 years, are treated like dogs, lynched and hardly considered human. If it is so with negroes of their own land and language, what would happen to the Cuban negro?"

As to what whites might expect under American intervention, the article says:

"Our courteous comrades in the public departments will be superseded by men of the type of Bliss (General T. H. Bliss) who when administrator of customs, asked nobody to be seated in his office, and who enforced the use of the English language. Also, instead of our deliberate and refined judges, we should have Judge Pitchers (alluding to Captain Wm. L. Pitchers of the Eight U. S. infantry, who in 1899 was police magistrate and supervisor of police of Havana) with their ten dollars or ten days.

"Furthermore, we shall have with us beer-drinking officers with clanking spurs, masters o fall, captivating our adorable virgins. That this may occur Cubans fight against Cubans, making room that Finlanders, Germans, Americans, Spaniards may come and enjoy the fecundity of our soil and air, the murmuring of our rivers, the beauty of our moonlit nights, the kiss and even the love of our women, and all because it is said the elections were not fair. Is there no other remedy except placing our necks under the yoke of Uncle Sam? This war cannot have no other end but intervention."

Surrenders in small numbers are reported from various places, the largest being at Vruezo, on the boundary line of Matanzas, and Santa Clara, where twenty-five men forsook the insurgents' cause.

There is no apprehension of an uprising in the ity of Havana, although the city contains a great many insurgents. Many foreigners are registering themselves at their consulates.

President Palma was asked tonight by the Associated Press to give his view of the situation, and whether he believed there was a possibility of arranging a peace with the insurgents in a manner acceptable to the government. He replied: "I regard the present time as inopportune for making a statement for publication, but perhaps in a day or two or within a short time I may give you my views."

ALAMEDA COUNTY WON FIRST PRIZE

SACRAMENTO, August 31.—The fine display of agricultural, horticultural and manufacturing exhibits of Alameda county, at the state fair, was awarded the first prize, and gold medal for the excellence of the display.

Alameda county was handicapped. Space could not be found in one place for the great exhibit, and it was installed in various parts of the main floor. Among the many fine county exhibits that of Alameda was easily first, and won on its merits.

MINERS' FEUD ENDS IN DEATH O FONE

MISSOULA, Mont., Aug. 31.—A special dispatch from Saltese tonight says that Ed Flynn, a mining man, was shot and instantly killed by Alvin Mc Kenney, at 6 o'clock this evening. There had been a standing quarrel between the two men for years and McKenney bears the scar from a bullet said to have been fired by Flynn years ago. Both men had been drinking today and when they met Flynn drew a knife and attacked McKinney, inflicting several slight wounds. McKinney thereupon drew a revolver and fired two bullets into Flynn's body. McKinney is under arrest and will be brought to Missoula tomorrow.

LACK OF HOP PICKERS

MARYSVILLE, Aug. 31.—Hop growers of this county are fearful that the lack of pickers will cause a heavy loss.

BOROUGH CLERK IS CHARGED WITH BIG DEFALCATION

MADISON, N. J., Aug. 31.—Hubert Van Wagner Meyer, for twelve years clerk of the borough of Madison, is locked up as an alleged defaulter in the county jail at Morristown. It is said that the amount of the defalcation may reach $10,000.

Fairbanks Addresses Old Soldiers.

DODGE CITY, Kan., Aug. 31.—Vice President Fairbanks, delivered a patriotic address here today to several thousand old soldiers and others, drawn from all parts of the state, at the camp occupied by the veterans attending the annual reunion of the Kansas G. A. R.

Later in the day Mr. Fairbanks took a train for the West, bound for Boise City, Idaho.

Fair Saturday.

Weather Conditions.

The disturbance noted yesterday over the St. Lawrence valley has shifted to Northern New England, causing light rains over the Appalachian region and the middle and north Atlantic coast. Generally fair warm weather prevails over the southern and eastern states. An extensive area of moderately high pressure occupies most of the region east of the Rocky mountains, with generally fair weather. The unsettled conditions which prevailed yesterday over the Pacific slope and plateau region have concentrated over the north Rocky mountain districts, causing cooler weather and light rains at San Francisco and over a large portion of the Rocky mountain districts. Rains have also fallen over portions of Texas, Kansas and Louisiana, with a fall of 2.25 inches at Dodge City. The measure is increasing along the Pacific coast, with cloudy or foggy weather. Fair weather will prevail in this vicinity tonight and Saturday.

BARTENDERS ARE WINNING

Already Several are Beginning to Yield.

These Will Receive the Patronage of Union Men Until Others Follow.

It begins to look as though the bartenders are going to win out in their desire to unionize. Already several saloon owners are weakening, and speak encouragingly of helping the movement. To help them in their laudable halfway measure, it was agreed at a meeting of the union men last night that these places would receive the exclusive patronage of all union men. This matter will be strongly brought out within a day or two, and it is probable that all other saloons will be treated as unfair houses by the 1400 union men of the city, and will not see a union face inside their doors until they come to terms. To make this point stronger, the union men will urge all their friends and union sympathizers to keep away from any bar owned by a man who selfishly withholds from his employes the privilege he enjoys himself in unity and strength as a member of the Royal Arch order.

It seems, however, that nearly every saloon keeper in the city is inclined to see things in a different light than before; they may yield to the movement with a ready grace when the proposition is put before them, and trouble may be avoided after-all.

It was whispered about town last night that the Knights of the Royal Arch held a secret session to discuss the situation, but this was denied strenuously by several members. President Collins who has been absent in San Jose, arrived back on the Owl and was not present to preside at the meeting. If one was held.

BAD INDIAN JEFF KILLS JIM VICK

Because He Reminded Him of a Man Whom He Murdered Fifteen Years Ago.

The latest report of the rumored murder in the mountains near North Fork has arrived from the San Joaquin power house men who have received straight information that the dead man is an Indian named Jim Vick, the murderer being a bad Indian named Charles Jeff. The killing took place fifteen miles in the mountains from South Port. The murderer has not been caught, as he ran off into the mountain fastness immediately after the shooting, and has not been seen since. A sheriff's posse from Madera is now hunting for mi, and his apprehension is expected any day.

According to the report, Jeff, Vick and a rancher called Mike Hake got together in a discussion the question being about a horse. Jeff and Vick began to quarrel, and the latter threw in his teeth an old time murder of 15 years ago. In the squabble Vick is said to have exclaimed: "You can't bluff me, although you did kill your man 15 years ago." At this Jeff pulled his gun and fired at him with the remark, "Yes, d—— you; and I can kill you and a dozen more like you. Take that." Before he could be stopped by the third man, he had discharged the contents of his gun in the body of Vick, killing him instantly. He at once made off, and was nowhere in sight when the officers arrived on the scene. The two men are said to have been drinking, and were in a quarrelsome mood, but Hake had no part in the quarrel or spree.

The wanted man is a tough character, and gloried in his reputation as a bad man. When in his cups he would reminiscently brag of his killing; and of the men who he claimed trembled at his name. It has been a matter of surprise that he has not been in trouble before.

BOTTLES AND BLOOD FOUND, BUT NO INDIANS

Warring Braves Disperse Hurriedly When Police Appear on the Scene.

A number of Indians holding a brisk little whisky bee on Blackstone avenue last night, got into a heated altercation over the merits of a horse owned by Jesse Blasingame, and came to blows. One of the braves was training the animal and waxed eloquent over its merits, while the ardent fluid flowed around. The other Indians, probably for the mere love of the thing, got up a fight over the question, and in a very short time all were busy in the squabble. Residents, alarmed by the yells and whoops, sent in a complaint to the police, and Sergeant Machen with Officer Van Meter repaired to the spot. But the Indians saw them coming and skidooed. When the policemen arrived on the scene there was nothing left of the fracas but a few torn shirts, a bottle or two, and some spilt gore on the ground.

As none of the bunch were badly hurt, and as there were no weapons used, the matter was not deemed worthy of further attention, and no arrests were made.

Fresno Federated Trades Act on Exclusion.

Request from League Headquarters for Co-operation Meets With Support.

It did not take the Federated Trades Council at last night's meeting long to accede on action in response to a letter from the headquarters of the Oriental Exclusion league. A resolution in accordance with the request was passed in about as quick time as it took for the resolution to be worded in movement and seconded. Delegates to the conventions of the Labor party, Republicans and Democrats at San Francisco, Santa Cruz and Sacramento are pledged to do everything possible to help in the passage of a bill as embodied in the following communication::

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 27, '06.
Officers and Members of Federated Trades and Labor Council, Fresno, Cal.

Dear Sirs:—Pursuant to the instructions of the Japanese and Korean Exclusion league, I herewith submit for your favorable consideration "A PLANK" unanimously endorsed by the above named body at its meeting on the 5th inst., with a request that you submit the same to the different political conventions, urging its insertion in their respective platforms.

Sincerely and respectfully,
A. E. YOELL,
Secretary and Treasurer.

Plank.

"Recognizing the imperative necessity of preserving the people of our state from competition with Mongolian labor, we declare for the strict maintenance of the Chinese exclusion act, without modification of any kind, and for the extension of that at so as to exclude Japanese and Koreans; further, we pledge our candidates for congress to work and vote for the passage of a bill which shall effect this latter object."

After settling this matter to the satisfaction of all the members present, the union men started in to finish off uncompleted details of the great Labor day stunts. An excellent bus and hack service has been arranged, and for a dime anyone may find his or her way to the Idlewild park, which is situated about one and one-half miles south of the city. The rigs will commence running at 8 o'clock and will run the greater part of the day. It was also announced again, in decisive terms, that there would be no intoxicating liquor tolerated on the grounds, either by sale or provision on the spot, or so far as possible to avoid by merry-makers bringing vials in their hip pockets. It is the design of the committees to have everything as decent and free from rowdyism as possible, and the event will be a place to which everybody and his wife may safely go and have a good time decently.

DID HE FIND BANDIT'S GOLD?

Rumored Strong Has Treasure of Murietta.

Rivals in Race, Who Abandon the Chase, Scoff at the Idea.

When Dr. T. F. Strong returned to Fresno Thursday night from his trip to the West Side in search of the hidden treasure of Joaquin Murietta, he brought with him a small satchel, which he carried with ease but which with a knowing smile he told his friends was heavy. Further he said he was going to take the satchel with him to San Francisco the next day. But he would not say that he had found any of Murietta's hidden wealth.

Yesterday it was reported that Strong had deposited $83,000 worth of gold bullion in the mint at San Francisco. If Strong was able to carry that much gold in a hand-satchel he is more of a magician than Herrmann and has more strength than Samson. Eighty-three thousand dollars in gold bullion would slop over the edges of an ordinary hand-satchel, and furthermore, the hand-satchel that would bear its weight would have to be of the iron-bound sort, for there would be something over 400 pounds of it. If Strong could walk rapidly along the street, lightly swinging 400 pounds of solid weight in one hand, with no more effort than he would exert in carrying a clean collar or two, he has Eugene Sandow outclassed.

All of which merely justifies the surmise that Strong found no more of the hidden loot of the greatest bandit of California, than did his competitors in the race to the alleged burying ground of the plunder. Messrs. Whistler and Garry of the county hospital, and they never reached the spot. Whistler and Garry started to drive to the Three Brothers' rocks, taking with them the aged Mexican, C. Perez, who knew the exact spot where the treasure was supposed to be cached and who was to act as guide. This expedition was equipped by the county hospital employes and all were to share alike in the treasure.

At the advice of Perez, they drove around by way of Coalinga, the Three Brothers' rocks being as close to that town as to Firebaugh and in the opinion of the old Mexican more accessible from that direction. From Coalinga they went out on horseback. In a deep canyon, a few miles from their destination, Perez, old and infirm, became exhausted, and they were forced to halt. Not being supplied for a long journey either with provisions or water, they were forced to turn back. However, according to Whistler, the trip was well worth while.

In the canyon they encamped at the old stone corral and cabin of Murietta. From people living in that neighborhood they heard numberless stories of the famous bandit and his marauding expeditions and tales of fabulous wealth buried in the hills. One story related to them was that in a cave in the side of the canyon there are known to be many relics of Murietta. Saddles, larkats, guns, and other parts of the equipment of his band of cut-throats have been fished from this hole in the ground, and it is believed that valuable treasure is hidden there as well. The cave is about twenty feet deep and the bottom of it can be reached only by lowering a man into it with a rope. The Mexicans living in that country are all afraid of each other, however, each man fearing that if his neighbors let him into the hole, they will hoist up the treasure and depart, leaving him at the bottom of the cave.

Whistler and his party made no attempt to find this cave. As soon as Perez was sufficiently recovered to travel they turned about and started homeward. They found no treasure, but they had a look at a wild, picturesque country that they had no idea existed within the borders of Fresno county, and they feel well repaid for the time they spent. They laugh at the idea that Strong returned with a satchel full of Murietta's gold.

NEXT CONVENTION MAY BE HELD HERE

Fresno Delegation Trying Hard to Arrange for Congress of Irrigation Next Time.

By the following telegram received from Miles Wallace at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday, it would seem that prospects are favorable for the next irrigation congress being held in the Raisin City. He wires hopefully in this wise:

Dunsmuir, Cal.

Chamber of Commerce, Fresno.—Wire at Boise Monday, if Fresno will guarantee everything needful for congress next year. Many of this delegation think we can get it.

MILES WALLACE.

In connection with this communication, President Hobbs announced that the matter would come up at the next meeting and receive due consideration. It is probable that everything can be arranged for the reception of the convention here, and the next congress may reasonably be expected to occur in this city.

LATON'S BIG BLAZE HAS LOSS OF $30,000

Disastrous Fire, Razing Big Building to the Ground, Occurs at Midnight.

A disastrous fire involving the loss of nearly $30,000 occurred at Laton shortly before midnight last night. The Dixon building was razed to the ground, and two large stores in the basement, with offices and storage rooms upstairs, were included in the loss. On the lower floor the store of J. J. Fenn & Co. sustained a total loss of something like $15,000 in general merchandise. The next-door store, L. L. Whitcome, lost from $3000 to $5000 in hardware. Upstairs were the offices of a dentist and Dr. Wolff's surgery. These, too, lost heavily. The building itself was valued at $8000. The cause of the fire has not been discovered, and the insurance conditions at this moment have not been learned.

FRESNO WINS SECOND PRIZE

With Exhibit at State Fair in Sacramento.

Beat All Counties in a Purely Fruit Display—Fifteen Individual Prizes.

President A. L. Hobbs of the Chamber of Commerce last night received a telegram from Sacramento that the Fresno county exhibit at the State Fair had been awarded second prize and that fifteen individual prizes had been awarded to different ones that contributed to the general exhibit. A request for this list last night from the fair authorities met with the response that the list of awards was still in the course of preparation.

The first prize to the county exhibit contest went to Alameda, which sent up a very extensive exhibit of manufactured articles. Fresno's exhibit was purely agricultural and consisted of about three-quarters of a car in bulk. The award of the second prize indicates that it surpassed any of the fruit exhibits from other counties.

L. R. Payne, who was chairman of the exhibit, expressed himself last night as being well pleased with the award. A large part of the credit for the exhibit is due to Mr. Payne's work.

UNION MAN AS NEW TRUSTEE

Deputation of Federated Trades Wait on Maor.

Will Ask that President Walker of the Council Be Appointed in Shaw's Vacancy.

Despite the fact that a man has already been named as the successor on the Board of City Trustees to fill the place vacated by Shaw's resignation, and J. M. Wrightson has been virtually appointed to the office, the union men of the city want to get one of their own men in. Last night the Federated Trades held a special meeting for the nomination of a suitable man from their number to fill the place and voted R. A. Walker for the billet.

A deputation of union men will wait upon the mayor in his office this morning to submit applications for the appointment in the name of Fresno's unionism. A committee for this purpose has been named and will include a delegate from every craft represented in the council.

Walker is the recently elected president of the Federated Trades Council and is an able union leader. Were it expedient to drop him into the vacancy, he would probably make a good enough man in the place, but the question arises whether the desire of the union men in this connection has not been announced at too late an hour to bear effective fruit. Ex-Trustee Shaw, like three other trustees on the board, was a union nominee on the ticket, and this fact will form one of the most forcible points in the argument of the committee in laying the request for a union successor before the mayor.

LETTER CARRIERS WILL CONVENE HERE MONDAY

The first delegates to the state convention of the National Letter Carriers Association, which meets here Monday, are expected to arrive tonight, while others from the south are expected in tomorrow morning. Altogether about twenty-five delegates will be here, representative of every branch of the organization in California. The majority of them will stop at the Hughes, which is to be headquarters for them. Tomorrow they will be entertained with a trolley ride to the wineries and afterward with an automobile ride out Kearney avenue. The business of the convention will begin at 9 o'clock Monday morning. Addresses will be delivered by Mayor Lyon, Chester H. Rowell and John W. Short. Mr. Short is out of town at present, but is expected to arrive home tomorrow. The convention will end up with a banquet in the evening at the Hughes.

HOO HOOS ARE HERE

Lumber Men Arrived on Owl Last Night.

Will Hold Meeting Tonight to Initiate the Local Eligibles.

The Owl last evening steamed into Fresno bringing the concatenated order of Hoo Hoos. This organization is purely a trade fraternity, being composed of those men actively engaged in the movement of lumber and those belonging to allied trades. There are 17,500 in the country at present, and the order is growing rapidly.

This is their first meeting in the San Joaquin valley, but not the last, for this evening all the leading lumbermen in this section will be initiated into the order. Their motto is "Health, happiness and long life." The order has been productive of much good in bringing into closer relationship men in the lumber trade.

Only one regular meeting is held each year, and that in the 9th month, on the 9th day, the 9th hour—symbolizing the nine lives of the cat, their emblem and badge. Other meetings, however, are held at regular intervals in the various districts.

The membership is limited to 99,999, and this last number has been conferred on President Roosevelt, who was taken into the order about a year ago. The initiation fee is $9.99 and the dues 99 cents a year. The next regular meeting will be held at Oklahoma City, Ok., September 9th.

The nine officers to officiate at this evening's initiation are: Snark, F. W. Trower; senior hoo hoo, W. H. Newell; junior hoo hoo, O. C. Shaw; bojum, R. W. Neighbor; scrivenoter, John P. Muller; jabberwock, F. W. Foss; custocatian, W. G. Newmyer; arcanoper, J. C. Ellis; gurdon, H. W. Hogen.

YBARRA STARTS SUIT TO CONTEST MOTHER'S WILL

R. G. Ybarra, through his attorney, E. A. Williams, yesterday began suit to contest the will of his mother, Mrs. Rosa Bermudez, who died last June, leaving an estate worth about $1000 to Mrs. Christina Valdez, wife of the proprietor of the King restaurant. The legatee was a close friend of Mrs. Bermudez, who by her will disinherited her son. The contest is based on the grounds of incompentency, Mrs. Bermudez, it is alleged, having been mentally incompetent for some time prior to her death. Ybarra is now in jail serving a six month's sentence for beating his wife.

Youth Arrested for Insanity.

Clifford Bryant has been detained at the insane ward pending an investigation of his sanity. On Thursday word was received at the sheriff's office that a crazy man was in the vicinity of Adelsbach's ranch on Fig avenue, two miles south of town. Deputy Sheriff Hutchinson immediately set out in a hack and found the boy picking figs. Adelsbach said he was harmless and wished to keep him, but later the daughter appeared and said that the youth had been acting most queerly, so Hutchinson, to be on the safe side, brought Bryant into town. Bryant claims Visalia as his home, living he says, with his stepfather, a man named Hutchings, but no information concerning him can be learned from that place. He believes that people are trying to poison him and that he is being chashed by detectives.

I AM GOING TO SHOW TO THE WORLD IM INNOCENT—

—Prof. Sanders

Broken in Body and Spirit the Old Man Still Maintains His Innocence—Tells of His Plans for the Future.

Pofessor W. A. Sanders, who recently completed his sentence of fourteen years in San Quentin for forging Wooten's name and who is believed to have killed the old rancher, denies strenuously that he is guilty of the crimes charged and expresses confidence in his ultimate vindication. The old man is sick and disabled in body and broken in spirit, but he declares that he has many ideas of use to the world and he hopes to live long enough to give the world the benefit of these ideas.

The Sanders trials—there were two trials—were among the most noted in the history of the state. It is familiar to to all the old-timers.

William Wooton, an Englishman, had a large ranch among the foothills near Hill's Valley. Along in the latter part of June, 1901, Professor Sanders spent three days with Wooton and a few days later the latter's absence was discovered. Then came the forgeries by Sanders of orders purporting to be signed by Wooton to the amount of $1750, for which he was tried and convicted to fourteen years.

As the body of the missing man was never found, and no circumstantial evidence procured, save the forgeries, Sanders was not prosecuted for murder.

Last spring Sanders was liberated and went to San Francisco, where, according to his own story, he underwent great suffering during the catastrophe.

"It was at the Brunswick hotel," said the professor, "I had managed to get out, but returned to help a woman whose knee was caught in the debris. Two floors had given way and it was necessary for me to exert all my strength to clear the caught limb. In doing so my own leg got caught and I fell backward wrenching my back severely. Just then some soldiers ran in and ordered us across the street. It makes me sick to think of it! In the building several women were left and the soldiers refused to let us help them. I was taken to St. Andrew's home, being paralyzed in one leg. Then to the soldiers' home, where I was for three months. My daughter took me out and on leaving, I was taken in here."

Concerning his conviction and the suspicions concerning him, Professor Sanders went on to say: "I am going to show to the world that I am innocent of all charges laid to me, but it is not going to be through the newspapers. I do not care to talk on the subject for publication at present. When the time comes I shall do so. That may be soon, for I am an old man—over 70—and I doubt if I last through the coming winter.

"Sometimes I have real hopes of recovering from my injuries, but hopes without expectations, for the world has need of many things in the scientific world that I can give it."

In answer to a question concerning his prison life, he said: "You know I am quite a botanist. Thirty-four years ago the raisin industry of this county was all enclosed in an eight-inch hat, and I wore that hat.

"My head was full of the plains of Naples and the beautiful vineyards of Italy, and I searched out similar land in this state for colonies.

"While in prison I spent most of my time on botany. The first few months I had many visitors, especially ladies, to whom I gave much information. The wardens were very kind and permitted me to have my flowers with me constantly.

"I was head of the conservatory for a while. But my greatest work was the writing of a book on the flora of California. This I had finished and had accepted by a publishing house but all went in the fire.

"In the prison garden I took great interest in the melon-pear (sohnmuncucaceum). This is in many respects an egg plant, but the egg plant must be cooked to be made edible, and if I can perfect the melon-pear it can be eaten raw like other fruit. If I live another year, I shall start hybridizing it, and if I go, my son will continue with my experiments.

"I wish you would make a suggestion to the big city papers of this state concerning their colored Sunday supplements. Instead of having all this foolishness about Foxy Grandpa, etc., they ought to illustrate in color by photographs procured in the forests and fields the flowers so widely grown and so little known in California."

The professor informed the reporter that he is under engagement to deliver some lectures on botany. Concerning these he doesn't care to speak at present, any more than that he will give to the world something of the botanical facts that he has treasured up during his half century in this state. He will wait until plants are in bloom again, so that he can illustrate his talks with living models.

Mr. Sanders then withdrew to smoke. "I never smoked till after I was 45," he said, and when the reporter offered him a cigar, he continued, "and I have never yet smoked a cigar, having always used a pipe, but I shall try this one. It looks good."

GOOD AND HARD

Results of Excessive Coffee Drinking.

It is remarkable what suffering some persons put up with just to satisfy an appetite for something.

A Mich. woman says: "I had been using coffee since I was old enough to have a cup of my own at the table, and from it I have suffered agony hundreds of times in the years past.

"My trouble first began in the form of bilious colic, coming on every few weeks and almost ending my life. At every attack for 8 years I suffered in this way. I used to pray for death to relieve me from my suffering. I had also attacks of sick headache, and began to suffer from catarrh of the stomach and of course awful dyspepsia.

"For about a year I lived on crackers and water. Believing that coffee was the cause of all this suffering, I finally quit it and began to use Postum Food Coffee. It agreed with my stomach, my troubles have left me and I am fast gaining my health under its use.

"No wonder I condemn coffee and tea. No one could be in a much more critical condition than I was from the use of coffee. Some doctors pronounced it cancer, others ulcerations, but none gave me any relief. But since I stopped coffee and began Postum I am getting well so fast I can heartily recommend it for all who suffer as I did." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville." "There's a reason."

MUCH ACTIVITY IN VINEYARDS

Some Muscats Have Already Been Turned.

Packing Houses Beng Put in Condition for the Season's Run.

SELMA, Aug 31.—There is much activity among the local vineyardists nowadays as the harvest season is here, requiring the services of every available worker regardless of race, nationality or color. Large crews of Japanese, Mexicans and floating laborers are employed as well as the home boys and girls who will work at this laborious task. Some of the more active growers have their grapes on the trays already and dried sufficiently to turn. However, the larger proportion of the vineyardists are inclined to let their fruit get good and ripe before picking as better raisins result. The packing houses are all being put in shape for early delivery of raisins and the big seeder plant of the Selma Fruit Co. will commence operations within a short time. The plant of the Seeded Raisin company has been increased to more than double its capacity of last year in anticipation of a large business this season.

HYDE RETIRES FROM BANK

President of Visalia Institution Since '74.

Crocker-Woolworth Bank Obtained Retiring President's Stock.

VISALIA, Aug. 31.—R. E. Hyde, president of the Bank of Visalia, has disposed of his stock in the bank and will retire from active business life. The sale of Mr Hyde's stock, amounting to 946 shares, was consummated this morning. Clarence M. Smith, a prominent capitalist of San Francisco and president of the Visalia Gas, Light and Heat company, being the purchaser. The consideration was $137,100, or $150 a share.

The announcement of Mr. Hyde's retirement has come as a surprise to people generally in this city and throughout the valley, where he was widely known. His ability as a financier has been recognized throughout California, and it is largely by his conservative dealing and able management of affairs of the institution that has brought the Bank of Visalia to the enviable place it now occupies as seventh in financial security among the various banking institutions of the state.

The majority of the capital stock of the concern will remain largely in the hands of local parties. Previous to his present purchase, Mr. Smith was the owner of thirty shares and now has a total of 946. It is understood that the Crocker-Woolworth bank of San Francisco is behind Mr. Smith in his purchase of the stock. There are 2000 shares in all.

The board of directors will meet next Tuesday and confirm the sale. It is not stated whether or not Mr. Hyde has handed in his resignation, but it is understood, however, that a new president will be elected in the near future.

Mr. Hyde, the retiring president, has been at the head of that institution ever since its founding in 1874. He will probably devote his time henceforth to looking after his extensive property interests in this vicinity and elsewhere.

The preliminary examination of Robert Carter, charged with assault with intent to commit murder in having shot A. G. Moseby of Tulare and seriously wounded him several weeks ago, was held at that place this afternoon. The injured man was present and testified. He declared that Carter was the aggressor but Carter and other witnesses state that Moseby first struck Carter, after saying that now was a good time to settle their differences. After the blow Carter drew his weapon and fired. The bullet entered between the fifth and sixth ribs narrowly missing the heart.

C. L. Russell appeared for Carter and M. E. Power for the prosecution. The testimony was submitted without argument. Justice DeWitt held that the evidence was not sufficient and ordered the case dismissed. Carter has been out on $1500 bail since the shooting. The sympathy of the community appears to have been almost entirely with him.

M. S. Featherstone returned this morning from Los Angeles where he went as a delegate to the Prohibitionist state convention.

Rev. and Mrs. R. H. Sanders returned this morning from Lake county, where they spent the summer. They were compelled to walk in San Francisco on account of the strike.

A. H. Murray, Jr., returned this morning from a business trip to San Francisco.

John Etzuhauser and family returned this morning from Long Beach, where they spent the summer.

BEERY, BUT WEARY ARE THESE FOUR

Police Get Tired of Seeing Quartet Loafing About, So they Are Arrested.

A bunch of saloon hangers-on were gathered by Officer Kennedy last night and booked at the county jail on charges of vagrancy. Their names were given as Tom Cole, J. McCall, George Snooks and Jim Hanley. The gang have been known to be loafers who have made no effort to get work despite the fact that employers on all sides are looking for men for laboring jobs. The four have been hanging around saloons guzzling beer whenever it was obtainable by hook or crook, and have taken their daily airing on the streets in a disreputable state that made them disgraceful to the streets of the city. The police have been watching them for some time and at last concluded to raid them in an effort to get them to work, or else have them floated out of town on a court order of suspended jail sentence. They were arrested in a saloon as they lined up expectantly for a drink from some one who wandered in.

Bee Inspector's Report.

The report of the county bee inspector was filed yesterday with the clerk of the Board of Supervisors. The report shows that during the month the inspector put in twenty-two days inspecting apiaries, visiting forty of them. In ten of them were found diseased bees, but only four had more than one hive that was diseased. Five cars of bees were shipped into the county from the Coast Range and Arizona during July and August and only two hives in the lot were diseased. Bees are not doing well in any part of the county at present.

Mrs. Mary Gregovich, of Philipsburg, Montana, under date of Nov. 26, 1899, writes: "I had typhoid fever this summer, consequently was losing my hair terribly, and my head in places was perfectly bald. Newbro's Herpicide had just come into use in Philipsburg, and the doctor strongly recommended it to me. After 3 or 4 applications my hair stopped falling out, and is coming in again quite thick. I used to be troubled greatly with dandruff, of which I am now quite cured." Kill the dandruff germ with Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. BRITISH TRADES UNIONS TO MEET IN CONFERENCE

POLITICAL SUCCESS IN RECENT YEARS HAS GIVEN THEM GREAT CONFIDENCE—STATEMENT OF DEMANDS TO BE MADE BY THEM UPON THE GOVERNMENT.

LIVERPOOL, Eng., August 31.—Representatives of the organized labor of Great Britain will assemble here September 3rd for the thirty-ninth annual trades union congress, and will continue in session for five days. The wonderful success of the candidates of organized labor at the national election, and the number of problems, of which solution must be sought along political lines, that are to come before the congress give special importance to the session. The advance program contains twenty-seven sections and the subjects run from the deeply-serious to the highly-novel. A proposal interesting to Americans favors the passage in Great Britain of a homestead act, such as exists in the United States exempting a reasonable amount of household goods from seizure. The dockers will protest against the passage of theological acts in the place of educational measures and the gas workers will seek the passage of resolutions covering seven proposals:

1. The State maintenance of school children.

2. Scientific physical education, with medical inspection and records of the physical development of all children attending the State schools, and skilled medical attendance for any child requiring the same.

3. The complete disassociation of reforms.

4. A national system of education under full popular control, free and secular from the primary school to the university.

5. That secondary and technical education be an essential part of every child's education and secured by such extension of the scholarship system as will place a maintenance of the scholarship within the reach of every child, and thus make it possible for all children to be full-time day pupils up to the age of 16.

6. That the best intellectual and technical training be provided for the teachers of the children of the people.

7. That the cost of education shall be met by drafts from the Imperial exchequer and by the restoration of misappropriated education endowments.

The great body of organized labor in the country seems to be strongly in favor of a purely secular system of education and the education bill introduced by the present Liberal Government does not go far enough to suit the labor interests. It is believed the resolution declaring for the secularization of the schools will be carried by a heavy majority.

There will be resolutions against militarism welcoming international arbitration; recognizing May 1st as labor day; favoring universal old age pensions applying to both sexes at the age of 60 years and to be at the rate of at least five shillings per week; for the nationalizing of all railways, canals, mines and minerals in the United Kingdom; for the founding of a labor newspaper; for the certification of all men in charge of engines and boilers, and for the examination of apprentices from time to time to see if they are being efficiently instructed in their handicraft.

The tin and iron plate, sheet metal workers and braziers will offer a resolution favoring the establishment of a "national citizen force, believing this to be the best means of putting an end to the wars of aggression abroad and securing freedom from the capitalist oppression for the workers at home."

There will also be action on the amendment of the aliens act in the House of Lords and that august body will probably be roundly scored. When the measure was recently before the upper house an amendment providing against the importation of workmen to take the places of the strikers which had been inserted at the request of the labor members of the House of Commons was stricken out.

The congress will also be asked to vote on a resolution involving an important reform in the procedure of Parliament. At present all private members bills pending at the close of the session die regardless of their nature or the progress they are making through either the House of Lords or the House of Commons. The resolution in question will pronounce in favor of the abolition of this system and the substitution of one under which private members' bills may be carried over to the subsequent sessions and eventually put to a vote.

It is also expected that the Russian situation will be considered and that the congress will put itself on record in favor of responsible government in the disturbed empire.

CRIMES AND ACCIDENTS

Suicides While Intoxicated.

SACRAMENTO, August 31.—H. C. Johnson, 55 years of age, committed suicide on the rancho del Paso north of this city, where he was employed, using a shotgun. He put the muzzle of the gun to his chin and pulled the trigger, the charge carrying away his entire face. Nothing is known of his relatives. Johnson had been in town several days, drinking heavily, and returned to the ranch last night. His dead body was found in his room early this morning.

Miner's Wife Drowns.

DUTCH FLAT, Cal., Aug. 31.—The wife of J. L. Jones, superintendent of the Blackhawk mine in the Humbug district near here while fishing this morning fell into the American river and was drowned.

The body was recovered a mile down the stream.

Negro Attempts Assault.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 31.—A young negro today forced his way into the house of Mrs. William Magee, 2953 Filbert street and attempted to assault Helen Parker, aged 16 years, who came from the south on a visit. The girl's outcries attracted a number of Presidio soldiers to the scene and they attacked the negro. They beat the fellow until they thought he was dead but he partly recovered later and was taken to the military hospital. The surgeons think he will live. A warrant for his arrest has been issued, although his identity has not been learned.

Fire at Fulton Iron Works.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 31.—Fire broke out in the Fulton Iron Works at Harbor View at an early hour this morning and before the flames were checked $20,000 damage was done. The works suffered severely in the April conflagration and had almost been completely restored when again visited by fire.

Found Dead in Shed.

WATSONVILLE, Aug. 31.—Henry W. Pierce, a farmer living near this city, was found dead under an open shed last evening. The indications are that he died a natural death, probably from heart failure.

Stepped in Front of Locomotive.

WATSONVILLE, August 31.—Last night at 11 o'clock in front of Pajaro station a young man named J. W. Freeman stepped from the rear of a train and in front of an incoming locomotive. The man's body was extricated from under the coal tender with great difficulty. When taken out he was alive and conscious but succumbed to his injuries this morning.

MADRID, Aug. 31.—Dispatches from Melilla, Morocco, say that the pretender to the throne is concentrating 6000 troops at Mulaya, in preparation for a decisive battle with the sultan's forces. The sultan's forces are said to number 4000 well armed men.

Attack of Diarrhoea Cured by One Dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

I was so weak from an attack of diarrhoea that I could scarcely attend to my duties, when I took a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It cured me entirely and I had been taking other medicine for nine days without relief. I heartily recommend this remedy as being the best to my knowledge for bowel complaints.—R. G. PRICES CURRENT

CHICAGO: The wheat market opened easier today because of a moderate decline at Liverpool and favorable weather for harvesting the spring wheat crop in this country. From the commencement of the session, however, the September delivery was in good demand by several influential traders, and this soon started covering by local shorts. The market responded to the demand, the September delivery advancing 3-4. Other deliveries advanced in lesser degree. Trading was active all day. During the last hour there was considerable profit-taking which resulted in declines in all deliveries. The market closed steady. December opened 1-8 lower at 73 1-2, advanced to 74 1-8 and closed unchanged at 73 5-8 and 3-4.

Liquidation of September holdings had a depressing effect in general on the corn market. A decline of 1 1-2 in the price of cash corn was directly responsible for the selling. Indirectly the profit-taking was due to the expectation of greatly increased receipts of corn from now on. December opened unchanged to a shade higher at 43 3-4 to 3-4 and 7-8, sold between 43 5-8 and 7-8 and closed unchanged at 43 5-8 and 3-4. Oats were easier on selling by commission houses and cash interests. December closed o: 1-8 and 1-4 at 30 3-4 and 7-8.

Provisions were steady on a 10-cent advance in the price of live hogs. Trading was very quiet. At the close September pork was unchanged, lard was unchanged and ribs were 2 1-2 and 5c lower.

LIVERPOOL: Close: Wheat, quotations unchanged. The weather in England today was fine.

SAN FRANCISCO: Wheat quiet; December $1.24 1-2; cash $1.30. Barley quiet; December 98 7-8; cash $1.05. Corn easy; large yellow $1.40 and $1.42 1-2.

ST. LOUIS: Wool steady, territory and western medium 24 and 28; fine medium 18 and 22; fine 14 and 27.

NEW YORK: Sugar, raw firm; fair refining 3 3-8 and 1-2, centrifugal 96 test 4c; molasses sugar 3 1-8 and 1-4. Refined steady.

NEW YORK: The market for evaporated apples shows no fresh features, with futures weak and spot more or less nominal in the absence of important business. Prime are quoted at 10 cents, choice 10 1-2, fancy 11.

Prunes are unchanged on spot, quotations ranging from 7 1-8 to 8 1-2 according to grade.

Apricots are firm with choice quoted at 16, extra choice 17, fancy 18 and 20.

Peaches are firmer in tone but spot quotations are unchanged. Choice are quoted at 10 3-4 and 11; extra choice 11 and 11 1-2, fancy 11 and 12, extra fancy 12 and 12 1-2.

Raisins are in moderate demand on spot with loose muscatel quoted at 6 7-8 and 7, seeded raisins 8 and 8c, London layers nominal.

Newspaper Men on Excursion.

DENVER, August 31.—A large party of newspaper men, delegates to the convention of the International League of Press clubs, which was concluded with a banquet last night, left here today on a mountain excursion which will last three days. Today will be spent in viewing the scenic attractions about Pikes Peak and tonight, under the auspices of the Pen and Pencil club of Philadelphia, a Bohemian encampment will be held in the Garden of Gods at Manitou.

NO EXTENSION BEYOND OCTOBER 1ST

All Canned Goods Must Be Properly Labelled By that Time, Says Wilson.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Secretary Wilson assured the representatives of the meat packing interests of the country, with whom he continued in conference today, that he had no authority to extend beyond October 1st the placing of labels on canned or other meat products. He told the packers flatly that they must be prepared on that date properly to label their goods or they would not be permitted to send them through the channels of interstate commerce.

The question was raised as to the status of the goods now on the shelves of the wholesale and retail merchants of the country. The secretary said it was manifestly impossible for the government to inspect them. The owners or holders of the goods, he suggested, would have to take their chances on selling them. One thing was certain—they could not be shipped from one state to another.

RECEIVER APPOINTED FOR MINING COMPANY

Creditor Alleges that It Is Hopelessly Insolvent and Owes $213,000.

BOSTON, Aug. 31.—The Taylor Park Mining company, a Colorado corporation, capitalized at $5,000,000, was placed in the hands of a received today. The receivership is the result of charges made by Clarence H. Knight of this city, creditor for $5000, who alleged that the company is hopelessly insolvent and owes $213,000.

The company is engaged in mining gold at Dorchester, Colorado. It has offices at Colorado Springs and Boston. Thomas W. Goodale of this city was named receiver.

The receiver was asked for an order that the property might be held together and administered as a whole. The company did not oppose the appointment of the receiver, who immediately assumed charge.

PARDON GRANTED TO SALOONKEEPER

Served Three Weeks on a Test Case from the Soldiers' Home at Yountville.

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 31.—Governor Pardee today granted a pardon to D. McVicker, the Yountville saloonkeeper, who sold liquor within one mile of the Veterans' home. McVicker had served three weeks of his four months' sentence and the petition for the pardon was signed by the committing magistrate and over 200 prominent citizens of Napa.

The conviction of McVicker was had on a test case brought to determine the validity of the state law prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors within one mile of the grounds of a state institution.

A MARINE FIREMAN KILLED BY COUNTRYMAN IN STABBING AFFRAY

SAN FRANCISCO, August 30.—During an altercation over a trivial matter at the home of A. Lombard, 15 Silver street, Joe Gomez stabbed Luigi Uturre to death and seriously wounded Andrew Rocco. Gomez and Rocco are marine firemen and roomed in Lombard's house. Uturre, a longshoreman and friend of the two firemen, called at their room tonight. According to Rocco, they began to dispute as which of the trio was receiving the most wages and became so noisy in their argument that Lombard ordered them out of the house. Uturre, it is said, walked out first and as he did so, was stabbed and instantly killed by Gomez, who then turned and plunged his knife into Rocco, his roommate and made his escape. Rocco will recover.

If he is defeated, Mr. Pulliam says he will retire permanently from professional baseball.

BRITISH ACCESSIONS TO SPELLING REFORM

New York, August 27.—The simplified spelling board today announced that two distinguished British scholars had accepted memberships to testify their sympathy with the movement to improve English orthography. One is Dr. J. A. H. Murray, the senior editor of the Great Oxford dictionary of the English language, of which the associate editor is Henry Bradley, who joined the simplified spelling board some weeks ago. The other is Professor Joseph Wright, editor of the English dialect dictionary.

Speaking of these recent accessions Brander Matthews said:

"The simplified spelling board now contains the editors of three English dictionaries published in Great Britain. It had as original members the editors of the three chief American Dictionaries, Webster, Century and Standard. The adhesion of the foremost linguistic authorities of both branches of the English race ought to be reassuring to those who have dreaded that the recommendations of the simplified board might work harm to our noble tongue or its etymology."

PREMATURE EXPLOSION DESTROYS TWO MEN

Half a Small Hill Demolished on the Bay Shore Cut Off.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 30.—The premature explosion of a heavy blasting charge of dynamite near the San Mateo county line, on the line of the Bay Shore cut-off, Wednesday afternoon, demolished one-half of a small hill, and blew two laborers in the employ of the Western States Construction company, into atoms.

The two laborers, Patrick Fitzpatrick and Micati Onderago, had adjusted the electric connection, and had started to leave the blasting point for a place of safety when a terrific explosion occurred.

The story of the monkey who used the cat's paw to pull the chestnuts out of the fire, finds new illustrations daily. When a dealer sells a customer a sustitute for MENNEN'S BORATED TALCUM, he does so because the substitute pays him a bigger profit. He makes the customer his catspaw to rake in a few extra dollars.

It is not pleasant to be made a catspaw, especially when you pay for the opportunity of being injured. Is it not foolish to pay for the opportunity to use injurious imitations of MENNEN'S BORATED TALCUM, the standard powder of the world? Think it over.

Have you tried MENNEN'S VIOLET BORATED TALCUM TOILET POWDER? Ladies partial to violet perfume will find Mennen's Violet Powder fragrant with the odor of fresh plucked Parma violets.

WELSH QUITS COMMISSION

Hands Resignation to Mayor Lyon.

Differences of Opinion With the Mayor Are Responsible for His Action.

H. H. Welsh yesterday tendered to Mayor Lyon his resignation as a member of the Board of Police and Fire Commissioners. The resignation was not unexpected; in fact, it is known that Welsh had been contemplating this step for several weeks. At the private meeting of the commissioners and the mayor on Thursday night of last week, following the regular meeting of the commission, Welsh announced his intention of resigning. It is known further that Mayor Lyon has for some time been desirous of having Welsh leave the commission, and the mayor therefore did not attempt yesterday to talk Welsh into reconsidering his action. Lyon merely wrote a polite little note to Welsh, accepting the resignation and thanking him for his services.

Welsh would not assign any definite reason for quitting the commission, save that he believed it was better for all parties concerned that he should do so. "I have felt for some time," he said, "that the mayor and I could not agree on a number of subjects and that my presence on the board was distasteful to him. For that reason I resigned. I will say that the police commissioners during the whole of my association with them have done nothing that they have not thought was for the best interests of the department and of the city. We have tried to do what we considered was right and just and honorable."

"Did the appointment of Shaw as chief influence you in any way?" he was asked. Welsh was ex-Chief DeVoe's friend on the commission and expressed regret when DeVoe resigned.

"By no means," he replied. "I think Shaw is the best man available for the position, and if I had not thought so I would not have seconded the motion to make him chief or voted for him. I believe him honest, sincere, and in every way capable. I favor as a general rule promotions from inside the department, as the possibility of becoming chief will in my opinion make more efficient officers out of the men on the force, giving them something to strive for. But in the present condition of affairs, the selection of an outside man was the only thing to do, and I don't believe we could have found a better man than Mr. Shaw."

Welsh would not admit the appointment of William McSwain as a policeman Thursday night had anything to do with his resignation. The employment of McSwain as a probationary officer was authorized Thursday night before Welsh arrived at the meeting, and after, it is said, a private agreement between the members of the commission that they would not employ him. Whether such an agreement was reached or not, Welsh was much surprised to know after the meeting that McSwain had been employed. Commissioner Risley was also greatly surprised, claiming that he voted on the motion thinking it was merely to put McSwain's application on file. On good authority it is stated that McSwain's appointment was the payment of a political debt on account of his labors in behalf of the present administration during the municipal campaign. To bear this out, Chief Shaw has been instructed by the commissioners already to put McSwain on duty as a plain clothes officer. This is a position that is usually given to the oldest and most experienced officer on the force, as it consists mostly of detective work. McSwain, with absolutely no previous experience as a peace officer, is to replace Officer Walton in the most important position on the force. Walton has been plain clothes man for several months. He will very likely be made sergeant.

Mr. Welsh was asked if the appointment of McSwain was made in order to pay a political debt.

"If so, it is the first instance of the kind that has occurred while I have been on the commission. We have never paid any attention to a man's politics, any more than we have to his religion. Our only question has been, 'Is he a good man? Will he make a good officer?'"

He was told that McSwain was to replace Walton as the force's detective.

"It should not be done," he said, shaking his head, "not that McSwain is not an efficient man, but Walton is unquestionably one of the most capable officers ever on the force and has done his work in that position splendidly. He should not be deposed from the place."

Mayor Lyon was asked last night if he had selected a man to take Welsh's place.

"Not as yet," he replied. "Mr. Welsh's resignation came rather suddenly and I have had time to give little thought to his successor."

While the mayor expresses great appreciation of Welsh's services while on the commission, there is little doubt that he is secretly delighted at Welsh's resignation. Welsh was always outspoken in his opinions, which were frequently at variance with those of the mayor. Welsh's vigorous personality rather dominated the rest of the board and he generally carried things his way. The mayor has long been of the opinion that if Welsh were off the commission the other members would be less apt to go at variance with his wishes.

Mayor Lyon states that he has turned over to the commissioners complete control of the police department. This does not mean, however, that the commissioners are going to assume any responsibility in the control of the tenderloin. They are practically all of the opinion that a regulated tenderloin is better than present conditions, but they do not propose to have the responsibility of opening the district beyond Chinatown passed to them. At the secret conference of a week ago, when the mayor brought this matter up, he was informed that the commission would have absolutely nothing to do with it and that the credit or discredit of the present policy he would have to bear alone.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—The correspondent at Calcutta of the Tribune reports that heavy floods in Bengal following a poor harvest are causing a grave famine in both provinces.

NEW CHIEF IS ON DUTY

Assumed Police Department Control at Midnight.

Says He Has No Present Policy Save that of Enforcing the Law.

William A. Shaw became chief of police of Fresno at midnight. R. M. DeVoe's resignation went into effect with the beginning of September 1st, and the new chief's duties at once began. Shaw is perhaps one of the best known citizens of Fresno. He has resided here for over twenty years, and during that time has acquired considerable means. For one term he held the office of constable of the Third Judicial township, so that the duties of an officer of the law are by no means new to him. The commissioners in selecting him did so not only on account of his previous experience, but because of their confidence in his honesty and integrity and his known executive ability, which will stand him in good stead in managing the police force.

Shaw is a member of the carpenter's union and was elected city trustee last year on the union labor ticket. He has been one of the most prominent members of the board ever since. He was a candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff, but was defeated at the recent convention.

The appointment of Shaw seems to have met with popular approval, as it is believed he will be the means of restoring harmony between the mayor and the commission, having been the choice of both, and that he will bring about better feeling among the officers themselves and end the dissensions that have disturbed them for many months past. Speaking of his policies, Mr. Shaw said yesterday:

"The only thing I can say as to my policy as chief is that I will enforce the law. That is the only instruction I have been given. I have not had an opportunity as yet to familiarize myself with my duties, and so am not in a position to say anything concerning specific things that I might wish to do."

Regarding the present policy of controlling the tenderloin, Mr. Shaw stated that he had no instructions as to relaxing the mayor's orders and would continue to enforce the law. He will spend the first few days familiarizing himself with the general conduct of the office.

HEART DISEASE KILLS HANFORD PIONEER

J. M. Rhoads Fatally Attacked While on Mountain Pleasure Trip.

HANFORD, August 30.—John W. Rhoads, one of Kings County's best known pioneers, died last evening in the Sierra Nevada mountains, while being moved from Giant Forest to the nearest hospital. His death was the result of an attack of heart trouble, with which he was attacked while hunting with companions in the mountains last Saturday. His wife was summoned from this city last Monday and was with him at his death.

The deceased was a son of Daniel Rhoads, who was a Kings county pioneer of especial note, having been one of the Donner Rescue party, and although born in Gilroy, California, November 2, 1850, he was a resident of what is now Kings county, practically all of his life. In 1880 he was married to Rosa Sanborn, who with two children, Ethel and Earl, survive him. He was a conservative speculator, a progressive business man and died possessed of considerable wealth. In politics he was an adherent of the Democratic party, although he never sought political preferment he served the community faithfully for four years as a member of the board of trustees of the city of Hanford. The deceased was a member of Hanford lodge, F. & A. M., Hanford lodges, F. & A. M., and Willow Camp, No. 103, W. O. W.

County Clerk Cunningham issued a marriage license today to Manuel Madrega Bonn, aged 31, and Miss Theresa Marshall, aged 16, both of this city.

The first half of the state apportionment of school money for Kings county has been made, amounting in all to $13,645. Hanford's share is $4000, the apportionment being based on seventy pupils to the teacher.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Broderick's little 2-year-old daughter was poisoned this morning by eating a quantity of rat poison, but the prompt assistance of a physician prevented fatal results.

A suit was commenced today in the Superior Court of Kings County by G. F. Williams against G. N. Furnish, constable of Lemore. The complaint alleges that the defendant is unlawfully detaining stock belonging to the plaintiff, and the return of the stock or $400 is asked for, together with $285 damages and the cost of suit.

The members of Olive Branch Camp, Royal Neighbors, were entertained last evening by Northcott Camp, M. W. of A., the evening's feature being a classic concert rendered on Jos. Green's Victor talking machine. The evening closed with a melon feast.

Miss Vivian Dold entertained at a "good luck" party last evening, given in honor of John Wrnith, who will leave tomorrow to resume his studies for the ministry in an Eastern College. Guessing games, music and readings furnished the evening's diversion.

LOWER COURT DAILY GRIND

David Ruppel, Charged With Felony, Is Acquitted.

Evidence of Two Women Is Contradictory, and Case Was Dropped.

David Ruppel, charged with attempting to criminally assault two women, Mrs. Forentina Geiger and Mrs. Mary Reinhart, was acquitted in the lower court yesterday afternoon, the evidence being too vague to base a conviction on. Deputy District Attorney Frank Kauke conducted the prosecution, and Attorney W. D. Crichton defended the accused man.

Both women testified to Ruppel's visit to the home of the Reinhart's, where Mrs. Geiger was also calling. The little son of the latter was sent out for some beer, and after drinking beer and wine in small quantities for some time, they played cards. One of the women was called outside of the house for a moment to feed her chickens, and was attracted by a cry for help from the other woman. She returned, and was herself submitted to an insult. Cross examined by Attorney Crichton, they admitted that all were having a good time together, but without any rowdyism. The testimony of witnesses was taken in German through an interpreter, Henry Johannsen. Ruppel was not asked to take the stand.

After hearing the evidence, Deputy District Attorney Kauke stated that there hardly appeared sufficient grounds to carry the case further, as the guilt of the accused man in a technical sense, would not be enough to warrant a conviction in his opinion. That the defendant had rendered himself liable, and had dangerously compromised himself, was not to be denied, but the contradictory evidence of the women saved him. Judge Briggs was of the same opinion, and dismissed that case.

Donihue Is Acquitted.

Judge Smith yesterday dismissed the case of embezzlement against Leon Donihue, who was recently brought back from San Francisco in the custody of a constable, on a warrant sworn to by Philip N. Chandler, on behalf of persons alleged to have been defrauded by Donihue. The case was defended by Attorney M. R. Harris, while Attorneys Everts & Ewing assisted the prosecution for the people. It was shown in the hearing that the defendant collected money formerly owed to him while he was in business, but which had been turned over to his creditors on going into insolvency. This money, contended the defense, was really owing to the accused, and the case was not one for the criminal court, being more of a civil suit. Judge Smith took this view of the matter and dismissed the charge.

Minor Cases.

Delmar Anderson, a respectable looking young Swede, appeared before Judge Smith to answer a charge of violating the city ordinance by sleeping in the park in the section set apart for women. He claimed to be ignorant of his wrong doing and was discharged with a caution.

C. D. King, a Japanese, handed over $5 as a fine for riding on the Southern Pacific platform.

SMITH RENAMED FOR CONGRESS

A few weeks ago certain interests in Los Angeles were very active in the Eighth district trying to stir up opposition to Congressman Smith. The most complete answer possible to that effort was made yesterday, when the congressional convention met at Santa Ana. By a unanimous vote resolutions were adopted endorsing the course of Mr. Smith in congress, and he was renominated by acclamation with enthusiastic cheers that were loud enough to be heard almost to Los Angeles.

Congressman Smith deserved renomination and deserved the hearty expression of confidence with which the renomination was given. The people of his district are satisfied with his work in the house, with the zeal and faithfulness with which he has looked after the interests of his district, and the manly stand he has taken on the right side of the great questions of congress. The action of the delegates to the convention yesterday was simply a ratification of the decision of the Republicans of the district. They wanted dared to yield to machine influence or pressure from Los Angeles and propose a movement in opposition to Smith.

He is stronger with the people today that he was two years ago, and will be re-elected by a bigger majority than he received then. We presume as a matter of form the Democrats in due time will nominate a candidate in opposition to Smith, but he will not be a factor in the campaign. The Republicans are united and enthusiastic in support of Smith and the people generally are so well pleased with him that he will draw a large vote from the Democrats. His majority two years ago was nearly 5000 and we should not be surprised to see it 10,000 this ear.

Mr. Smith has "made good" in his first term as few congressmen do. In the session recently closed he won a high place among the new members of the house and came to be recognized as a man whose abilit, industry and independence would ensure him a position of great influence in they ears to come. He accomplished much for his district in this one session and will accomplish much more in future terms. If we eep him in congress, as we should for many years, he will soon be at the head of some important committee and be counted as one of the leaders in the house. Such a strong man, with the experience and prestige continued service in the house will give him, will be a power in protecting the interests of his district.

Riverside is particularly well pleased with the nomination of Smith. This county instructed its delegation for him very early in the campaign, and we never hesitated to let the fact be known that he was our choice, first, last and all the time. We do not admire him less here for some of the enemies he has made, for they were made in an earnest and honest effort to do what was just and right by his constituents. And we shall give him a majority on election day that will abundantly show our satisfaction with his record and our confidence in his future.—Riverside Daily Press.
